

U. N. Mediator Orders Jews To Pull Out of Negev Desert

PARIS, Monday, Nov. 15 (AP)—The acting Palestine mediator, Dr. Ralph Bunche, today ordered Israel to hand over Beersheba to the Arabs and give up the Southern Negev desert by Friday.

If finally carried out, this plan would pull Israeli troops out of a section of Southern Palestine roughly 20 miles wide and 25 miles deep. Egyptian troops would hold their present positions.

Arabs Okay Proposal

CAIRO, Egypt, Nov. 14 (AP)—Premier Mahmoud Fahmy Nokrashy said today that Egypt has accepted the U. N. Security Council's "recommendation" for restoration of the status quo in the Negev desert of Southern Palestine.

Egypt has accepted the Security Council's recommendation. Negotiations now envisaged by Bunche aim at the establishment of a demarcation line between the Zionist and Egyptian positions in the Negev, the premier said.

No 'Smeared'

Senator Promises Investigating Group Won't 'Witch Hunt'

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14 (AP)—Senator John L. McClellan (D-Ark.) today barred "witch hunting" and efforts to "smear somebody" by the top Senate investigating committee in the next Congress.

He expects to be chairman of the Senate committee on expenditures in the executive departments when Democrats take formal control of Congress on Jan. 6.

This is the group which conducts most congressional inquiries for the Senate. Its special investigating subcommittee under Republican Senator Homer Ferguson of Michigan was a vigorous, and sometimes controversial, body during the two years of GOP control.

As for his own plans, the precise-speaking Southern Democrat told a reporter: "This will not be in the nature of a witch-hunting committee. As far as I am concerned there will be no headline seeking in an effort to smear somebody."

"I AM NOT implying that has been done either by Senate or House committees," he continued, "but I see our job as more supervisory than investigatory. We will carefully check the efficiency and facilities of all government agencies, bureaus and departments."

McClellan is a member of the special commission under former President Hoover which soon will make public full reports on a two-year study on reorganization of many government agencies.

"There are a lot of weaknesses in our present government organization," the senator said. "I think we can keep pretty busy trying to correct them. Of course we may BEERSHEBA HAS strategic importance as a communications center. Its capture the past month was acclaimed by the Israeli government in a special victory proclamation.

Bunche ordered that Beersheba be demilitarized, that Israeli forces withdraw from the city and that it be administered as an Arab city by an Egyptian civil administrator.

Bunche sent his instructions to the Jews and Arabs through his representatives in Tel Aviv and Cairo. He told both sides the arrangements set up in his instructions are provisional only. They would be effective, he said, until permanent truce lines are established.

Talks Slated Today in Tieup Of N. Y. Ports

NEW YORK, Nov. 14 (AP)—Conferences begin tomorrow in an effort to end a dock workers' strike which has halted nearly all overseas shipments from the nation's big east coast ports.

Mayor William O'Dwyer said today he will confer tomorrow with Joseph P. Ryan, head of the striking AFL International Longshoremen's association. A total of 65,000 ILA members are out in a pay dispute.

O'Dwyer, successful in negotiating many a strike settlement, is primarily concerned with the 15,000 longshoremen in New York.

But any settlement also would affect the ports of Boston, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Wilmington, Del., and Hampton Roads, Va.

Yesterday the Association of American Railroads placed a ban on nearly all goods bound for overseas from these ports. About 200 ships are tied up as a result of the strike.

If it lasts long, Marshall plan shipments as well as ordinary commercial maritime business will be hard hit.

O'Dwyer said today the city's food and fuel are not at present endangered by the strike.

Jews Study Order

TEL AVIV, Israel, Nov. 14 (AP)—Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion called the Israeli cabinet into special session tonight to discuss U. N. mediator's demand that the Israeli government give up control of the Negev desert by Friday.

What the Jews intend to do about the order was not clear.

A foreign office spokesman declared bitterly that the order by the mediator, Dr. Ralph Bunche, was "astonishing and unrealistic."

Earlier, Ben-Gurion said the Jews would not pull out except by force.

AFL Favors Repeal Of Taft-Hartley Law, Return of Wagner Act

CINCINNATI, Nov. 14 (AP)—Swift repeal of the Taft-Hartley law and automatic substitution of the old Wagner labor relations act was proposed today by the American Federation of Labor executive council.

President William Green told a news conference that he thought repeal could be accomplished by March 1.

Although it was Green's impression that the council favored repeal of the one law without regard to how long it would take to write another, several other members of the 15-man council said the policy-making group did not mean to leave a long period without any labor law.

Repeal without an immediate substitute would mean the death of the National Labor Relations board, the conciliation service, and all of the machinery erected in the past 13 years to deal with labor jurisdictional disputes, unfair labor practices and similar problems.

Council members said that they favor the restoration of the Wagner act.

Deafened Aroused by Tiny Hearing Device

Chicago, Ill.—Wide interest is being shown by thousands of deafened people in an amazing new hearing device which now enables them to fully enjoy music, sermons and friendly companionship—and not be bothered by bulky, heavy separate battery pack and wires. It is so tiny it fits in the palm of the hand. Users of this device report easily understanding even faint voices. Accepted by the American Medical Association's Council on Physical Medicine. The makers of Belton, Dept. 29, 1450 W. 19th St., Chicago 8, Ill., are so proud of their achievement they will gladly send you a free descriptive booklet on how to overcome deafness and explain how you may test this tiny device in the privacy of your home without risking a penny. Write Belton today.

PARIS, Nov. 14 (AP)—French Henri Queuille escaped political disaster today—temporarily.

Two of the big parties in his coalition cabinet decided to stick with him, for a little while longer.

If either party had decided to withdraw the cabinet would probably have collapsed, and Gen. Charles de Gaulle would have been much nearer to taking power.

15 Senators Must Switch to Kill Labor Law

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10 (AP)—Fifteen Senate Democrats will have to do some reversing of the field if they back President Truman's demand for repeal of the Taft-Hartley act.

The 15 Democrats—13 of them from the South—joined with 35 Republicans who will be members of the new Senate, in voting the past June 23 to override Mr. Truman's veto of the labor law.

Thus the new Senate still will have a paper majority of 50 to 46 against outright repeal of the act—a move demanded by many union leaders and one that the President told the voters he will ask Congress to make.

Few believe that supporters of the act can muster any such majority to prevent changes in its provision.

AT LEAST ONE Democrat who voted to override, Senator McKellar of Tennessee, already has announced publicly that he has changed his mind and now is for repeal.

The other 14 haven't made their position clear.

They include Senators Hoey of North Carolina, Holland of Florida, Fulbright and McClellan of Arkansas, George and Russell of Georgia, Byrd and Robertson of Virginia, Connally of Texas, Eastland of Mississippi, Ellender of Louisiana, Maybank of South Carolina, and O'Connor and Tamm of Maryland.

U. S. Speeds Up Its Shipments Of Arms, Munitions to China

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14 (AP)—The Army and Navy have ordered full speed ahead for American arms shipments to China.

To avoid delays from the West coast shipping strike or other causes, American Naval and Army vessels will carry weapons, ammunition and military supplies officials said today.

Many appear deeply pessimistic, however, that the shipments can themselves alter Chinese nationalist chances of halting the Communist advance, north of Nanking or elsewhere.

The arms, paid for out of the $125,000,000 Congress voted for Chinese military aid, may fall short of replacing those believed lost by Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's troops in North China and Manchuria. In any event weapons are viewed here as much less important to the nationalists at this stage than leadership and fighting spirit.

BETWEEN THE LOSS of Tsingtao, capital of Shandong province, and the fall of Mukden in Manchuria a few weeks later, authoritative reports indicate the nationalists' loss.

more than 30 divisions. Several went over bodily to the Communists.

At least 10 divisions are believed to have had American weapons supplied when the United States Army trained and partially equipped 39 divisions for Chiang at the close of World War II.

American policy then and since has been to supply Nanking with its marginal needs to keep the upper hand over the Communists. Officials suspect now the margin has been wiped out.

The Communists' forces presumably make use of much of the loot, though far from all weapons vary in size and have limited value without a continuing supply of ammunition. There is concern now that the same fate of capture may befall some of the latest aid, but authorities made plain it would not delay the effort to bolster Nanking.

County Group Declares Hatboro Suspect In Bryn Athyn Fire Was Not Fire Policeman

The Montgomery County Fire Police association at its meeting Saturday in the West End Fire company station, Stowe, went on record as declaring flatly that the man accused of causing a $500,000 Bryn Athyn fire was not a fire policeman.

Press association and radio reports of the fire Thursday had asserted that the arson suspect, Evan Hall, 29, Hatboro, was a fire policeman.

James Costello, of Oreland, financial secretary, told the 83 members present that a check of his records showed that Hall was not a member.

He added that Hall also was not a member of the Hatboro fire police.

PHILIP RADEN, of 449 High street, a Pottstown fire policeman, said the misconception probably started because Hall often wore a police-like uniform and carried a whistle.

Raden, together with Clinton H. Miller, of 371 Beech street, had been on special duty at the Oct. 30 Hatboro Halloween parade.

At this parade, Raden said, he had seen Hall wearing a non-official police uniform and blowing his whistle. Raden emphasized that Hall wore no fire police badge.

OBITUARIES

CHARLES L. HARTENSTINE, 69, of SANATOGA, retired moulder and member of five Pottstown area organizations, died Saturday morning at 6:50 o'clock in Pottstown hospital. He had been ill only three days and was admitted to the hospital Friday.

Mr. Hartenstine was born in Pottstown, and while living here married Mary Smith. Twenty-six years ago they moved to the home west of Sanatoga Hill along Route 422.

A moulder by trade, he had been employed for 28 years at the Pottstown machine company, retiring at the age of 65.

After he retired, he took up chicken farming as a hobby and had worked actively at it until the past week.

Mr. Hartenstine was a member of Emmanuel Lutheran church, and also of Aerie 626, Fraternal Order of Eagles; Sanatoga Tribe 213, Improved Order of Red Men; Sanatoga Grange and Sanatoga Fire company.

Surviving are his wife and one sister, Mrs. Ella Mock, of Coatesville.

Funeral services will be held Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock from a funeral home at 359 King street. The Rev. Luther A. Krouse, pastor of Emmanuel Lutheran church, will officiate.

Interment will be made in Pottstown West End cemetery.

Funeral services for AUGUST BOTT, husband of Helen (Balschun) Bott, POTTSTOWN RD. 2, will be held Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock from a funeral home at 112 North Washington street.

The Rev. Kenneth R. Anderson, pastor of St. Peter's Lutheran church, Stowe, will officiate. Interment will be made in Highland Memorial park.

Graveside services for SUSANNA MARIE SPIETH, infant daughter of Frederick and June (Rapine) Smith, of 732 WALNUT STREET, were held Saturday in Edgewood cemetery. Officiating was the Rev. Luther A. Krouse, pastor of Emmanuel Lutheran church.

The child, who died Friday in Pottstown hospital, is survived by her parents; her maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur B. Rapine, of 1215 Maple street, and her paternal grandmother, Mrs. Victoria Spetz, of 732 Walnut street.

Funeral services for ELLEN PAULIN COX, of 1236 MAPLE STREET, a dow of Frederick W. Cox, will be held tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock from a funeral home at 247 Penn street, Reading.

The Rev. Horace S. Mann, of Reading, will officiate, and interment will be made in Charles Evans cemetery, Reading.

Man Is Arrested In Cafe Disturbance

Joseph Krickzy, 355 Jefferson avenue, swung and missed during a fracas in the cafe owned by Charles E. Jacobs, at 52 South Hanover street, late Saturday night, but he landed in a borough hall cell anyhow, charged with being drunk and disorderly.

Krickzy, according to a police report, was raising a disturbance in the parlor, when Jacobs came in from the back room to try to straighten things out.

The rate customer then swung at the proprietor, but within a few minutes, the young man had been induced to leave the place.

Almost immediately, Krickzy returned, and this time Jacobs called the police and quickly swore out a warrant against the man.

Krickzy was locked up until yesterday, when he paid $50 bail pending a hearing before Justice of the Peace Richard H. Cadmus, of the Seventh ward, today.

Motor Patrolman Harold E. Hahn and Robert H. Houser made the arrest at 11:15 o'clock Saturday night.

It costs no more to live in the upper story of life where the air is purer, the scenery fairer, the vision keener, and the joys more constant.—Lord North.

Strength in Union

WITHIN the very near future, this country will start serious work on preparing the draft of a military alliance with a group of foreign nations.
That would have happened before, had this not been an election year.
As it was, the State Department and the other agencies involved thought it best to postpone it until after the election, in order to keep it above and beyond partisan political considerations.

It is a remarkable thing that such a proposal should be seriously made in a country which, until recently, had religiously followed Washington's admonition against entangling foreign alliances.

There is no better illustration of the fact that the world has shrunk tremendously, looking at it from the military and foreign relations points of view, and that America's ocean-made, geographical remoteness from Europe is no longer considered to be a guarantee of territorial security.

If and when the alliance comes into being, it will be the result of the Soviet Union's postwar attitude—and, more particularly, the obvious intent of that power to dominate all of Europe and destroy every possible vestige of Western democratic influences.

Had Russia even gone through the motions of cooperating with the Western nations in implementing the peace, and had she shown even a modicum of restraint in her dealings with the little nations that border on her boundaries, it is doubtful if the American Congress and the American people would have approved anything resembling an effective foreign alliance. However, that is water under the bridge, and the world being what it is we are taking more and more of the spotlight on the international stage.

According to John M. Hightower, an AP foreign editor, "State department officials... plan to consult leaders of Congress and the major political parties to find what they will support in the final drafting of a proposed treaty to create a North Atlantic mutual defense system."

Mr. Hightower reports that diplomatic authorities fear that a number of major points will survive negotiations and be formally enacted.

- Among them are:
1. The participating nations will form the nucleus of the non-communist alliance.
 2. Other non-communist powers should be included.
 3. If any of the nations involved is attacked, all the others will consider that they have been attacked as well.
 4. Thereafter, each nation would take "appropriate action" in accordance with its own particular constitutional processes.

This is indicative of the progress, the West is making in cementing its strength against possible aggression. It is reasonable to assume that such an alliance would be followed by outright military aid on a large scale to the countries of Europe which join. All of them are militarily weak, to varying degrees, and they want planes, tanks, ammunition, and so on. And, in the view of many, an alliance on paper wouldn't mean much unless it were solidly backed up by material power.

There is still another point that deserves wide mention—the courage that small European countries have shown in resisting Russia.

That resistance is fairly easy for us with our enormous military potential, and our possession of a huge country which has been free of foreign invasion.

It is a very different thing for poor and devastated countries which have been fought over at almost regular intervals for centuries, and which are within easy reach of the powerful Russian bear with his innumerable divisions, his planes, his submarines, and his guns.

The anti-communist leaders in those countries certainly can hold no illusions about what may happen to them if the communists do gain control—the example of Czechoslovakia alone is sufficient. And even if a "cold" and the Western sympathizers know that there would probably be an unpleasant fight in Europe for them too—the communists clearly are the force labor gangs from those who oppose them.

All in all, the peoples and governments of Western Europe have shown a fine degree of resolution in standing up for what they believe to be right.

Expresses Disgust Over Repeated Power Failures

North Ender's Complaint

To the Editor: The electric power failures, which have brought many of us North End residents to the verge of profanity many times, hit a new low Thursday night when we were without electricity for more than an hour and a half.

How long must this go on before the electric company does something to give us the service to which we're entitled?

We realize that breakdowns can happen. But when they occur as often as they do in this end of the borough, it is time the company started thinking more seriously of its service instead of getting every cent possible out of its customers.

I am no electrician, but it seems quite evident to me there is an overload on the main circuit leading to this section of town. Perhaps the construction of so many new homes in this end is the cause of the overload.

Whatever it is, the company is obligated to remedy it.

Our evening meal was delayed the full time the power was off Thursday night. As a result, I was late for an important meeting. No doubt others experienced the same troubles.

If customers neglected their obligations to the company in the same manner that the company neglects this situation, most of us would have had electricity denied us long ago.

WASHINGTON

Stalin Pulled a Coup On U. S. in North China

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14 — Stalin has pulled the smartest squeeze play in modern military and diplomatic history through the Communist conquest of North China, with the prospect that this sprawling continent of almost 500,000,000 people will fall into Red hands.

The rush of events in the Orient tends to substantiate official and unofficial warnings from diplomats, missionaries and business men in that area that Moscow had deliberately staked the German and Balkan crises during the last six months as a screen for his even more threatening activities in the Far East.

PLUNGE: To change a football figure, the quarterback in the Kremlin has faked a plunge through the European side of the line, while he directed his real charge against Chiang Kai-shek's toppling China. If prospective developments show this to be his strategy, it will mean that the western powers, including the United States, were caught asleep and off guard.

For the U. S., Britain and France have committed themselves to holding the line thousands of miles away from Stalin's undercover offensive, despite desperate, last-minute efforts at Washington, London, Paris and Key West to shift and strengthen their original front.

LATE: Marshall Plan Administrator Paul Hoffman has been in almost constant conference with Undersecretary of State Lovett, with military experts and his own advisory staff. But he admits wearily that it is "too late" now for any large-scale resistance.

He dare not forward civilian supplies lest they be captured by the advancing Communist forces, inasmuch as their lines move forward every hour. Anyway, he has only $275,000,000 for this purpose.

Ordinance experts dare not step up shipments of weapons for the same reason. Moreover, since the amount on hand for military reinforcement of the beleaguered Chinese is only $125,000,000, it would not provide sufficient weapons and ammunition for a month of fighting. Privately, the disheartened officials here and among our anti-Red Allies admit that it is another episode of "too little and too late."

It may be some time before Stalin's further strategy unravels. But it is pointed out here that already the Commie sweep through Northern China constitutes a flank attack on our position in Japan and Southern Korea. Even more serious, however, would be an eventual sweep and propaganda war in India, the Malay peninsula and turbulent Indonesia.

DISCOURAGED: The worry of the apparent Chinese collapse lies in the fact that the discredited generalissimo belatedly chose as his military leader in North China the one man whom such an expert as George C. Marshall characterized as "a real soldier." He is General Fu Tso-yi, the bald, moon-faced but rugged, deep-driving ruler of Shansi Province.

So discouraged has he become according to reports that he may not accept the too long delayed offer of independent authority in massing his men against the invaders. He may simply rally his tough warriors, known as the "Yellow River Bend Babes," to hold the narrow corridor he now occupies in North China.

GRAFTING: For some time our more skilled students of Chinese affairs have urged that we use our offices to persuade Chiang to relinquish power in favor of General Fu. But Washington did not like to offend the sensibilities of the man who was eulogized during the war by Roosevelt, Churchill and even Stalin as the "rock of China."

Questions on Levels

To the Editor: In answer to Letus B. Fair ("Criticism Stems from Ignorance," Readers Say, Nov. 12), I wish to say that is what we parents want.

Before I go farther, I want to let you know that the woman who spoke at Monday's meeting knew what she was talking about. Dr. Hauston congratulated her.

What I want to know is, with the level system of marking low, how is a parent to know if your child is slow and needs extra help?

There is no supposed to be any going back in the level system. A child is to master a level before going forward. It does not matter now long it may take.

Now, here is my point. Way, it that is true, at the end of last year my child who had level five in arithmetic and level ten in reading was put back to level one in arithmetic and level six in reading at the beginning of this year?

We parents are trying to get cases as mine cleared up so that it does not happen again, for a child loses all interest when it happens.

My child stated, "Why go to school and try? I'm only getting what I got in first year and last year."

We all know it is necessary to review, but it should not take two months to review one level.

Remember, we are not fighting the school system. We only want our children to have a fair chance.

Pottstown G. L. J.

(Editor's Note: Harvard Fosnacht, elementary school principal, has offered to clear up any individual misunderstandings of parents concerning the level system. So The Mercury refers G. L. J. to Mr. Fosnacht for answers to questions involving advancement of her child.)

Jottings in Pencil

STUDIOS on the Coast are reading the riot act to "colorful" stars whose hi-jinks have landed them in the newspapers—and on occasion in police stations—during the past few months. And in conjunction with this attempt to avoid future "destructive publicity," the industry will wage an intensive campaign to familiarize the motion picture public with the activities of the genuinely respectable members of the film colony. Robert Young will be the first star to get the "take him, for example" treatment.

The age old Clark Gable-Virginia Grey romance is no more. This year's Jesters Award for King and Queen of Comedy will go to Jack Benny and Eve Arden.

Barbara Hutton Troubetzkoy must intend to stay in Paris more or less permanently. She's ordered French & Co. to send over a gigantic rug for her Paris house—one she hasn't taken out of storage in years.

ONE OF THE biggest names in the

The Worry Clinic

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

LAURA G., 25, is married to a young physician.

"Dr. Crane, my husband has such a violent temper," she protested, "that I am actually afraid of him."

"One night I locked him out of my bedroom, and he became so angry, that he pounded on the door until he fractured his wrist. Then he got his revolver and fired it through the bathroom ceiling."

"I didn't know whether he had committed suicide or not, and so was frightened. I ran into my parents' bedroom, for we live with them."

"Dr. Crane, I think we ought to get a divorce, don't you?"

"For five years this young couple has lived with Laura's parents. In fact, save for the honeymoon trip, they have never been away from her father and mother."

Laura is an "only" child. They think that everything she does is practically perfect.

Moreover, she openly defers to her father's judgment, just as she did in childhood, and of course this affronts her husband's pride.

She also seeks the help and advice of her mother in many domestic problems. So, although Laura is an educated and talented girl, she has never been independent of her father and mother.

Her young husband admitted to me that he likes her parents reasonably well, but he also resents their first place in Laura's thoughts.

The younger man feels that her parents can overbid him. So, when Laura locked her bedroom door, he went into a jealous rage, for that was the last straw.

Laura made her first grave mistake in demanding that they live with her parents.

The latter had cordially invited the young couple to do so, citing the fact that they had a large room, so why should the young physician handicap himself by having to finance rent for an apartment?

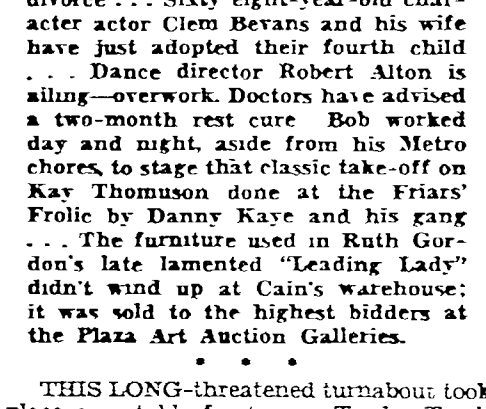

This argument sounds fairly sensible, I admit, but it is often poison to marital happiness. Young people should not live with their in-laws for any great length of time, regardless of how gracious and kindly the latter may be.

If they do, inevitably they will begin to defer to mother or father, since this attitude has been made habitual throughout their childhood.

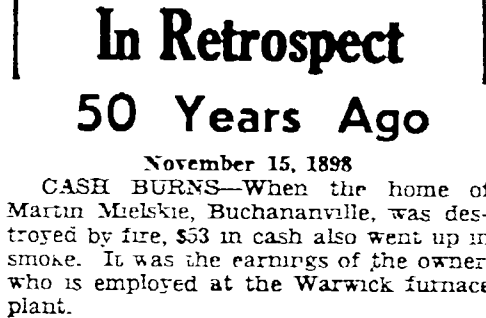

If you want to know the quickest way to wreck a marriage, just let a pair of "only" children go through the ceremony, and then reside with the parents of one or the other.

A husband wishes his wife to turn to him when she is worried or in trouble, for this intimates his superiority and is therefore a compliment to his masculine strength or judgment.

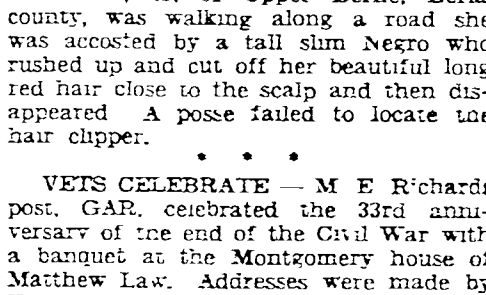

When, instead, she involuntarily turns to her father, she offends her husband. She may scarcely realize the fact, but the damage is inescapable, and unless there is perfect sexual compatibility, divorce is imminent.

Howard Duff of the films—(or Sam Spade of radio detective fame)—whichever you prefer, was born in Seattle, Wash. He took a job as a window trimmer for a department store, but hated the work. Duff broke his leg when he was in high school, which barred him from sports, so he turned to drama. He did some radio work on a small station after his graduation, then he studied for the stage with a repertory company, then he returned to radio. In World War II, Howard served in Army radio service for four years. The Sam Spade program began six months after he ended his military service, and he's been in the movies for almost two years.

William Kapell was born in New York City and was musical from babyhood. He began to study piano when he was ten and after six weeks' intensive work he won his first music contest. Except for a few recitals at hotels and in private homes in California, when he was 12, he made no professional appearances. Kapell's big years were 1940-41. He won a scholarship with the Juillard Graduate school and played a concerto with the Philadelphia orchestra. Kapell's first appearance on New York came in 1942, when he was chosen to play a concerto with the New York Philharmonic orchestra and later set out on his own concert tour. Since then Kapell has been soloist with every major symphony orchestra in the United States, and he has played in Europe, Australia and South America. He was recently married.

Hollywood

By EDITH GWYN

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 14 — Ben Bogeus isn't letting cool reviews on his two latest epics cool him off on producing more. He's about to film "The Crooked Way" and wants

Betty Grable

Brian Donlevy for a top spot. First though, Brian must finish "Impassioned" opposite Ella Raines, which was held up for weeks because of her recent serious illness. ... Betty Grable and Harry James, who deliberately lost most of their horses in claiming races last year, will have three new ones ready to race at Santa Anita when the season opens. They've been concentrating on breeding their own nags. ... Albert Lang thinks that Al Joison won that majority election in Encino by promising two yachts in every swimming pool! ...

BUSIEST ACTRESS in Hollywood at the moment is Vivica Lindfors, who is toiling at Warners in "This Side of the Law" by day and then bicycles to the Coronet theater to play in "Eurymedon" on stage. ... The Lindfors gal is planning a trip to her native Sweden soon with her two children. And maybe she'll make her peace with the Swedish press. Most of the papers there think she's gone very upstage since she crossed the ocean and clicked in the cinema, so to speak. The huge bed that young Dean Stockwell is using in many sequences for his role with Margaret O'Brien in "The Secret Garden" is the same Elizabethan antique that Mary Pickford used many years ago in "Little Lord Fauntleroy" ... Asked how he enjoyed his date with a certain starlet, George Jessel said, "she's the kind of gal who keeps the conversation bubbling."

LATEST ON the Bill Elythe-Buffie Cood situation is that she will seek an annulment from him instead of a divorce — alleging that their marriage was never consummated.

The cast and crew of "Down to the Sea in Ships" is glad it took "cold shots" at the studio hospital when the picture started. For the past week, Richard Widmark, Lionel Barrymore, Dean Stockwell and others have been working in ice water — on and off whaling rigs. Of the 150 people on duty, only a few have even come down with the sniffles.

MRS JAMES Mason has shocked Hollywoodites with those statements she's made regarding her coming date with the stork. Her husband, James despite his "hot" publicity, leaves us cooler than cool. We forgive the quip pulled by that always-supercalifunio Brother Ralph Richardson as he left Hollywood for home. He paraphrased Robert Browning's immortal line like this, "On to be in England, now that Masons HERE!"

INSPIRATION COLUMN

(From "Your Life")

PERSPECTIVE — Years ago an old man taught me the lesson of keeping the right perspective on my goal. I went to him with much the same kind of career problem which faces many young men and women today. I was discouraged. He heard me out. Then he asked, "Got 50 cents?"

"Glad you didn't ask for a dollar," I remarked bitterly. "Fortunately, I have got 50 cents."

"Good. Now, hold it up close to your eye," he instructed, "as if it were a monode."

More than a little baffled, I obeyed him.

"Close your other eye," he went on. "Now, can you see the sun?"

"Certainly not!" I answered indignantly. "I've got one eye closed, and the half dollar covers the other. It hides the sun."

"In other words, you've maneuvered yourself into a position where a half dollar is big enough to hide the sun! That's the crux of your problem. You've let little things and problems become so magnified that they keep the important things out of your life. Back away from those little problems. Take a look at the sun for a change."—Charles B. Roth.

YOU MAY BE RIGHT — Many an otherwise well-balanced individual becomes weak and easily led, hence unstable, because he does not possess the inner conviction that he may be right and the other fellow wrong. To be sure, such a person feels overwhelmed, possibly inferior, when a number of persons try to prove he is in error. Yet it is a well-known fact that the majority often is wrong, that the minority may be the only group that sees the truth.—Louis E. Bisch.

DON'T TRY TO PLAY GOD — Most of us, at one time or another, try to play God. Temporarily, at least, such an attitude satisfies the ego, but it can get us into all kinds of emotional snarls. When you try to be God, you infer that you know all the answers and are, therefore, capable of charting the life course of yourself, your family, and your friends.

It is hard to keep "hands off" other people's lives. It is harder to avoid criticizing the lives of others. But if you want to keep away from nervous tensions and emotional jangles—if you want to be popular, wanted, sought, enjoyed — you must sternly resist the temptation to play God. When you try to assume this role, you wind up with an audience of one—yourself.

The drama of life has a long cast of characters, and it is impossible for you to change your make-up fast enough to play all of them. Play yourself—that fine, wise, sensitive, intelligent self. Perfect your body, your habits of living, your mind and spirit—and leave the rest to the one true God.—Margery Wilson.

IN A FEW WORDS — A chip on the shoulder generally has fallen about six inches from the block directly above ... Most things in the home today are controlled by switches —except the children ... You can get to the end of your rope in a hurry by handing everyone a line.—Hawley K. Everhart.

ADROIT PERSUADER — Tom Reed was for many years Speaker of the House of Representatives and one of the most adroit persuaders on Capitol Hill. After he retired, someone asked him how he managed to sell his ideas so well to other congressmen. He replied that he said them their ideas.

At a committee hearing he would remain silent until everyone had had his say, making notes of all the various objections that were raised. Then, when everyone else was argued out, Tom Reed would rise to his feet and say, "Gentlemen, it seems to me that what has been said here can be summarized as follows: ... Reed would then present his ideas—and sell them.—Elmer Wheeler.

THAT'S LIFE — If you answer a bright wisecrack with a brighter one, the other fellow will think you are smart—and envy you. If you come back at him with a word of admiration for his brilliance, he will think you are wise and kind—and like you.—Rush Littlecombe.

YOUR HEALTH

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M. D.

SINCE I was a medical student, and that was many years ago, we have gone a long way in the management of acute appendicitis and now results are fairly satisfactory, with one exception. This exception is the failure to recognize and treat promptly appendicitis in the older group of patients, particularly those over the age of 40.

We have found out that elderly persons with appendicitis develop the condition slowly. Often the patient may not even look sick during an attack. However, the condition progresses rapidly and, by the fourth day of the disorder, the appendix may have broken open, discharging its contents into the cavity of the abdomen, resulting in peritonitis.

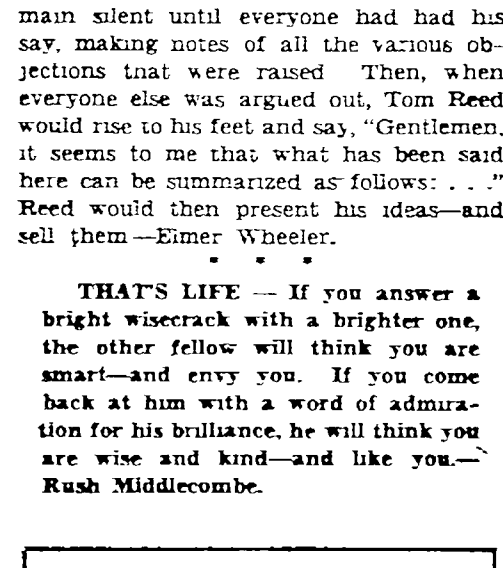

Then, too, the older patient with appendicitis often delays in seeking attention. Unfortunately, the symptoms are not typical, as they are in young persons, and a correct diagnosis is difficult; and, as I have mentioned, breaking of the appendix develops very early.

Probably the most important contributing factor to the bad outcome in these persons is self-treatment and the taking of laxatives at home prior to entering the hospital. Not only is the delay dangerous, but the use of the laxatives may make rupture of the appendix more likely.

The usual symptoms of appendicitis consist of pain in the right lower part of the abdomen, together with tenderness on pressure on this area, and some stiffness or rigidity of the muscles. The white cells in the blood area are, as a rule, increased, and there may be fever.

Parable of Talents Used by Members Pays Off for Church

BUTLER, Nov. 14 (AP)—The parable of the five talents paid off better than two-fold for the Rev. Hudson M. Clements and his little parish today.

The past June, the 26-year-old minister borrowed $500 from a local bank. He distributed it in amounts varying from $10 to $2 to 110 of the 167 members of the Butler Trinity Lutheran church.

He told them to invest the money as they saw fit and to bring in their capital and profits. Today was the day of reckoning.

At the morning church service, each person gave his earnings and told how he made them. The total collected was $2124—enough to pay off the $500 and buy a $1100 heating system.

"I THINK IT'S just grand," enthused the young minister. "But I don't know whether I could ever get up enough courage to ask them to do it again."

The largest amount—$38—was turned in by a dentist, Dr. C. E. Miller, who invested his money in alloys for dental fillings.

Mrs. Lewis Kuhn reported she baked and sold 46 pies, 52 dozen buns, 137 dozen cinnamon rolls, and 1 cake to account for the $64 she collected.

Six-year-old Evelyn Huselton invested her $2 in strawberries and turned in $6.

Other parishioners sold balloons at the Butler county fair, raised rabbits, made miniature houses for Christmas tree decorations, painted pictures, mowed lawns, washed cars and sold brooms.

PRACTICALLY EVERYONE CAN JOIN BLUE CROSS!

Anyone under 66 in good health can now join as a Non-Group Member

Blue Cross is the community service plan that pays hospital bills for you and for your family.

Now, Blue Cross is opening its doors to practically everyone who wants to join. If you work where a Blue Cross group does not now exist, you can join. Or if you are self-employed, retired, or not working, you can join. Anyone under 66 in good health can join. But you must apply before December 15.

Remember, the chances are 1 in 10 that you will go to the hospital within the next 12 months. If there are five in your family, the odds are 1 in 2 that you will use your Blue Cross hospitalization.

WHAT YOU GET
Blue Cross gives you (for 21 to 30 days a year, depending on how long you have been a member) a semi-private room at the member hospital of your choice... meals and special dietary service... general nursing service... drugs and medications in general use, including penicillin... operating room... oxygen... and many other benefits. These services cost you not one penny. Blue Cross has paid a hospital bill of as much as $2,700 for an individual member!

WHAT IT COSTS
Protection for yourself alone costs less than four cents a day, for yourself and your entire family, less than ten cents a day. Less than the cost of a street-car ride. Yet your membership may save you thousands of dollars in hospital bills!

30 DAYS ONLY!
This opportunity for nearly everyone to join Blue Cross is part of the tenth anniversary celebration of the non-profit Blue Cross Plan. In these ten years, local membership has grown from zero to 1,300,000—practical proof of the enormous value of the plan.

Lost Pilot Lands Safely In Blinding Snowstorm

KANE, Nov. 14 (AP)—William H. Lane of Leominster, Mass., escaped unhurt last night as he landed his plane in a field during a blinding snowstorm near Kane.

Lane, who said he was en route to Elmira, N. Y., from Youngstown, O., told state police his radio failed and he became lost. He spotted the site of a proposed airport and, though it was filled with bushes and stumps, landed the plane with slight damage.

Only an inch of snow fell during the storm and it melted quickly.

Try Share-the-Mother Plan

Panther and tiger cubs become foster brothers and sisters at the National Zoological park in Washington through a share-the-mother plan tried by zoo officials. When quadruplet cubs (lower photo) were born to a tigress, she refused to feed all of them, so two of the babies were given to a mountain lion mother in place of her own pair of 25-day-old cubs (top), now old enough to be weaned.

Sculptor, Wife Found Murdered in Florida

BOCA RATON, Fla., Nov. 14 (AP)—Lino Lazzari, ranked as one of America's best decorative sculptors, and his wife were found murdered and robbed in their studio-home today.

Police Chief W. H. Brown said the bodies were discovered shortly after 1 p. m. (EST.) by a friend who was to have been a dinner guest. They had been shot by a rifle or revolver, Lazzari once and Mrs. Lazzari twice, both through the stomach.

Their bodies were sprawled on the floor, some seven or eight feet apart. Lazzari's pockets had been emptied and Mrs. Lazzari's purse was missing, although their watches were still on their wrists.

No weapon was found.

Brown estimated they had been dead about eight hours.

The home, part of which is made into a studio, is located about a mile and a half north of the Boca Raton city hall on U. S. Highway one.

Lazzari was described by a Miami Herald critic as "one of America's best modern decorative sculptors."

His work, "Rainbow Figure," was sold to the Duke of Windsor for the governor's mansion in Nassau, Bahamas.

One of his most recent accomplishments was a series of famous polo players, including Harvey Firestone Jr., Bob Bullock, Fred and Billy Post and Allen Case.

Born in Rome, he came from a family famed for its artistic achievement. An ancestor, Bramante Lazzari, did art work for St. Peter's church in Rome in 1505.

BUSINESS and INDUSTRY

Thorn Windows Sold Completely Adjusted By W. S. Antrim, Son

Thorn Metalite double-hung windows, sold by W. S. Antrim & Son, 62 High street, phone 822, are completely assembled, weather-stripped, adjusted, fitted with tape-type spring balances, lifts and locks, at the factory.

All expensive field labor is eliminated and the installed cost is comparable to wood, having equal features, and as fully complete.

Glazing clips are furnished for glazing after installation.

Windows are fitted to receive metal screens and storm sash, which are available as extras.

The windows are made of rolled and extruded shapes, with corner joints of frames and sash solidly spot welded.

They present a fine appearance, require no paint or surface protection, and are everlasting under most conditions.

With winter and colder weather coming on, it might be advisable to see the Antrim establishment about these Thorn windows.

There Are Many Things That Need Checking Before a Car Is Fit for Winter Weather

Top-quality anti-freeze, new pep in your battery, new oil in the crankcase, the carburetor checked, perhaps new sparkplugs if needed, new lubrication with winter oils and greases—these are all items your car needs and must have right now if you are to obtain the best performance and cut your garage bills.

Everyone likes comfort in motoring, and particularly during the cold weather months when it is mighty disagreeable if anything goes wrong and you've got to stand out in cold weather and fix it or wait on the garage wrecker crew and tow-in truck.

Not to mention the added expense when the time comes for an emergency run from your garageman.

The Amoco Service station at 54 High street, operated by Hilary Printz and Abba Koenigsberg, has that excellent Moto-Sway lubrication which means fine oils and greases are given to your car while it is actually under road conditions. Car washing and tires are featured here, too, and motor repair work is done.

You'll get top-grade service at all times.

Don't Store That Mower Until Bodor Services It

Time to put away those hand and power mowers but you'll want them in good shape for next Spring so why not get in touch with James Bodor, at Bucktown, Route 100, Phone Pughtown 2723, and have them serviced before they are stored?

Mr. Bodor gives complete service and repair work in a modern shop on all mowers and also gives Briggs and Stratton motor service. Gibson and Planet Jr. tractors are sold here as well as the famous Toro power mower.

That mower cost you a nice investment when you bought it. Why not protect that cost by having it serviced and repaired by someone who knows the business.

Insure Feet Against Cold At People's Shoe Repair

Those cold, slushy days are apt to hit Pottstown at any time, so you'll want to make sure that you and all members of your family have good soles on the shoes of your feet.

It's a bad time of the year to catch cold, pneumonia and many serious ailments, so don't take a chance.

Bring your old shoes to the Peoples Shoe Repair, 9 South Franklin street, off High and 1st. Ralph Marchione, the proprietor, give them his skilled attention. He can make them look almost like new again, with quality leather used, and they'll last you many more months. At the price of new shoes today this means a big saving.

The finest of materials are used at this shop and skilled labor and modern equipment assure you of good workmanship.

The Jeltz club of Bethel AME church marked its tenth anniversary Saturday night with a turkey dinner in the church. All 25 members attended and each made brief remarks.

Guest speaker was the Rev. D. Wilson Tull, of Reading, while master of ceremonies was William S. Carden. The program included vocal and instrumental selections.

Officers present were Porter Beasley, president, Charles E. Roberts, vice president, Rebecca Hines, secretary, Leo Hudson, treasurer.

Minnie Sutton, chaplain, and the Rev. Allison Coole, pastor of the church.

Other members attending were: Mrs. Coole, Harvey Hines, Frank and Bertie Hughes, Anna Brown, Catherine and John Barber, Walter Weaver, Gordon Beasley, Arthur Blakey, Horace and Doris Blanding, Matilde Carden, Richard and Gaendolva Miller, Kenneth and Phyllis Hines and Lelia Rocketts.

Ottaviano Is Given Nomination to Head Italian Lodge Here

Jerry Ottaviano, president of Maria Assunta lodge for the past 14 years, yesterday was nominated again to the post with no opposition.

The entire park of incumbent officers was renominated without opposition.

The only feature to keep the Dec. 11 elections from being completely routine will be a six-man race for three trusteeships.

Renominated were the three incumbents, James Ottaviano, Oreste Dinocenzo and Frank J. Cipraro. Nominated were Paul Sperat, Patrick Ciurula and Albert Derecola.

Officers who will step back into office automatically are Alfonso Pagnola, vice president, Innocenzo DiMatteo, treasurer, John A. Balassari, financial secretary, Antonio Dinocenzo, assistant financial secretary, Victor DiAngelo, grill secretary, and Louis J. Cimino, recording secretary.

Also Samuel Licio and Joseph Chioro, sanitarian committee, Rocco Corellesse, sergeant-at-arms, George

Lodge Here Host To District Moose

Three hundred men, representing 11 Eastern Pennsylvania lodges, gathered in the name Pottstown Lodge 369, Local Order of Moose, for the monthly meeting of District 3 yesterday afternoon.

Highlights of the meeting were an exchange of ideas for children's Christmas parties to be held on district lodges and reports on the "49ers" membership drive. Earl B. Bechtel, past district president, reported for Pottstown.

A resolution was passed paying tribute to Frank Wund, Allentown, an organizer of the district who died two weeks ago. It will be sent his family by Raymond Messimer, district secretary and member of the Pottstown lodge.

The meeting opened with an address of welcome by Lester Boush, governor of the Pottstown lodge, and closed with a dinner for the members.

Plans were made for the 11th anniversary meeting in Quakertown on Jan. 9. The next regular meeting will be held Dec. 12 in Easton.

A Declaration of Independents

We, John and Mary Smith, being secure and happy in the sunset years of our lives, do declare our independence of support from our children, and charitable aid from relatives, friends, organizations and local government; and we do further declare that our comfort and peace of mind we owe solely to the hard work, the thrift and the savings of our earlier years, and we urge all younger people so to order their lives that they, too, in old age may enjoy the social independence which is their heritage.

Charlotte St. At Walnut

Mrs. C. F. Taney, of Monaca, was the principal speaker recently at a joint meeting of the Women's guilds of East Vincent, St. Vincent and Brownock's churches at Brownock's church. About 30 women attended.

Mrs. Taney reviewed the book, "Commuted Unto Us," by Willis Lamett. She spoke at both the morning and afternoon sessions. During the day, 19 "pack-a-towel" packages, which had been prepared by the three guilds, were dedicated. They will be shipped overseas to displaced persons and refugees.

Mrs. Harry W. Funk conducted the exercises, assisted by Mrs. Wesley Yeager, Mrs. Clarence Powell and Mrs. George Peiffer. Mrs. Lloyd J. Sanot extended a welcome to all and introduced the speaker. Afternoon devotions were conducted by Mrs. William McKay.

Impressive Double Ring Ceremony Unites Joyce Taft and Charles Herbert Roshong

In Valley Forge Memorial chapel the front. To this was attached a Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock, very full skirt. She carried a show- Miss Joyce Taft, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin W. Taft, Oaks, became the bride of Mr. Charles Herbert Roshong Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Roshong, Pottstown RD 1.

The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. John R. Hart in the presence of close friends and immediate relatives.

Preceding the ceremony, a recital of bridal music was presented by Mr. Chester Norton, organist, and Mrs. Franklin Hoffman, vocalist.

THE BRIDE chose a traditional gown of white satin with lace trim. The fitted bodice was topped with illusion neckline and long sleeves forming a point over each hand. The very full skirt flowed into a long court train.

Her finger-ring veil of tulle was trimmed with lace and fell from a satin crown. She carried a shower bouquet of white carnations with baby's breath. Her father gave her in marriage.

Serving as maid of honor was her sister, Miss Doris Taft, who chose a tulle gown of light blue with matching veil and gloves. It was fashioned with tiny Peter pan collar and long sleeves of small buttoned, closing the tightly fitted bodice at

Charming Ceremony Unites Sallie Hall And Mr. H. C. Bauer

Charming in every respect was the wedding of Miss Sallie Lou Hall to Mr. Harold C. Bauer yesterday afternoon in the Lutheran Church of the Transfiguration.

Miss Hall is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John T. Hall, Boyertown RD 2, and Mr. Bauer is the son of Mrs. Evelyn Bauer, 118 Chestnut street, and Mr. Harold Bauer, Bally.

The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Theodore L. Fischer, pastor. While organ music was rendered by Mrs. Harold Keim.

Attired in a white marquisette with a sweetheart neckline, fitted bodice, long sleeves pointed at the wrists and a train trimmed with pleated ruching, the bride approached the altar on the arm of her father.

Her white net waist length veil fell from a crown of seed pearls and she carried an arm bouquet of white roses and carnations.

Flattering Fur Accent

The fur trimmed hat, when gracefully handled is just about as beautiful as a beautiful hat can be. Here is a picture that which subscribes to the popular shell silhouette. Blonde mink is faced in sand colored velvet and swathed in saba maline which adds up to lovely luxury. While a mink coat to match would be wonderful, a suit or coat trimmed with mink and topped by such a hat would certainly tell a fine fashion story.

Miss Verna Petinko Becomes Autumn Bride Of Mr. Reynold Geisler in Catholic Rectory

In the presence of close friends and immediate relatives, Miss Verna Petinko, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Petinko, 247 Queen street, became the bride of Mr. Reynold Geisler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Geisler, 103 East Howard street, Stowe.

The double ring ceremony was performed in the rectory of St. John's Catholic Church of the Greek Rite Saturday morning at 11 o'clock by the Rev. John D. Tapich, rector.

The bride was gown in white satin with high illusion neckline on the snugly fitted bodice. The leg o-mutton sleeves tapered to a point above each wrist. A long court train terminated the extremely full skirt.

From a beaded satin crown fell her double finger-tip veil of net that was trimmed with Chantilly lace. She carried a spray of white carnations.

MISS DOLORES CURECH, Williamsport, niece of the bride, appeared as the matron of honor in a dark rose tulle gown. It was patterned with softly molded bodice, highlighted by a "V" neckline and tiny cap sleeves. Two skirts made up the bottom of the gown with the top skirt bunching at the back for the new black interest.

With this she wore a headpiece with high center crown of matching net and carried a spray of yellow chrysanthemums.

Her bridesmaid, Miss Joan Sciacca, Williamsport, selected a gown of light pink tulle, styled similar to that worn by Miss Curech. She wore a light pink net headpiece and carried a spray of yellow chrysanthemums.

PERFORMING THE duties of the best man was Mr. Albert Campetelli, Pottstown, with Mr. David Smale, Pottstown, acting as usher.

Mrs. Geisler, mother of the bridegroom, selected a deep gray suit with black accessories and a white carnation corsage for the ceremony.

A reception for the guests attending from Williamsport, Philadelphia, Pottstown, Boyertown, Royersford, Reading and Stowe, followed in St. Gabriel's lodge.

Later the couple left for a honeymoon in New York city, from which they will return in a week to reside at the home of the bride's parents.

As a going-away costume the bride chose a tan gabardine suit with dark brown accessories.

Mrs. Geisler is a graduate of Pottstown High school, class of 1944, and is employed at the Firestone Tire and Rubber company. The new bridegroom graduated from the same high school in 1943 and is a draftsman at the Bethlehem Steel corporation plant.

Advice to the Lovelorn
An Agreement on Family Finances

ONE of the many things on which a man and a woman should have a definite agreement before marriage is the matter of the family finances. It is all very well for a girl who is in love to take it for granted that the man she marries is going to support her. What many poor innocents find out too late, however, is that while their husbands may carry out the responsibility of supporting them, they never are given so much as five dollars for themselves. The husband pays the bills and thinks his wife should be satisfied with that.

Other wives have a sad awakening when they discover that any money of their own they may happen to have is considered by their husbands to be common property.

I was glad to see, therefore, that a young woman who writes me she is contemplating a second marriage, after a divorce, has the good sense to want the matter of whose money she is to have before the wedding day. She is 38, she says, and the man she expects to marry is 12 years older—both of them supposedly mature enough to take an adult view of life in general.

"I HAVE A lovely five-room home," writes this young woman, who signs herself "R. H." "a double garage and a newly-furnished apartment from which I get $75 a month income. I spent $1500 to improve the apartment so I could rent it. My home is also very nicely furnished and I have a 1941 automobile. All of this is clear.

"This man owns two lots and equipment for his work, the equipment being valued at $2000. He is willing to put this into community property and has offered to spend $500 for rugs and drapes for the house, which is all it needs to complete it. We intend to trade my car in on a new one, the balance to be paid out of his earnings. He would move into my home with no rent to pay except for general upkeep.

"Now the argument is, he thinks we should have a joint bank account and our earnings should go into it, and that I should put the income I get from the rent of my apartment into that joint bank account. The house is to remain my own property.

"I think I am entitled to keep my income in a bank account of my own or do with it as I see fit. I feel that he should clothe me, make our living and put his savings in a joint account for us. He makes good money but thinks it's no more than fair that my income should be community property after we are married. I want to do the right thing so would you please advise me."

AS I HAVE said, I think "R. H." is very wise to have financial matters definitely organized before her marriage. I think also that her own personal income should remain under her own control and not be made a part of their community property.

It does seem to me, however, that if she reserves that right for herself, it would be only fair for her husband also to have an account which is his alone, to do with as he sees fit, just as she believes she should do in the case of her own income. She is expecting, and rightly, I believe, that her husband should be financially responsible for her after she is his wife. But if he carries out this responsibility fairly and generously, then I see no reason why she should lay claim to every cent he makes by insisting it all go into a joint account.

If this woman wants her second marriage to be a success, as obviously she must, she should start right now to be as fair on her side as she expects her husband to be on his.

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

Several ways to do it. from the dummy, and after East played the 8, put in the 10, which lost to the J. Now the A was certain to take the setting trick. South's explanation of this way of playing the suit emphasized the fact that West had made a bid and therefore was more likely to hold the A than East, who however, could well hold the J. Furthermore, he said, the A might be a singleton since West had shown length in spades with his bid. He did not stop to consider that West had disclosed enough high card strength for his bid with the two spade tops and the possible holding of the club K. Nor did he realize that, with spade length shown as only four, West might well have two of the heart suit, so that there was a good chance East had the same. If he decided to count West for the A, his right play was to enter his own hand and lead a small spade; if the A was not used, come in with the Q; if it was played, game would be sure.

Tomorrow's Problem

(Dealer: West. Neither side vulnerable)

North East South West

1♠ Pass 1♥ 1♠

2♠ Pass 3♥ Pass

Making that contract involves just one problem—how to play the trump suit. West peeled off two spade tricks and put South-in the dummy with the spade 10 to the Q. Now the sole job to be done by South was limit his loss in hearts to a single trick. If he happened to lose two, he would be down. There were plenty of different ways for South to operate on the suit, and of them all he selected what was probably the best way to lose two tricks. He led the heart 2.

U. S. to Renew Fight To Control Tidlands

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14 (P) — The administration is planning to renew its effort in the new congress to secure Federal control of the tidelands of oil lands.

Both the Interior department and the military establishment, which with the Justice department sought the legislation last session now are preparing for another try at getting congress to assent paramount control of the submerged oil lands to the Federal instead of State governments.

The administration will introduce legislation to declare coastal oil lands under the sea to be the property of the Federal government. It would have established among other things a system of percentages and royalties between the States and the Federal government.

Truman and Family Pass Quiet Sunday in Florida

KEY WEST, Fla. Nov. 14 (P) — President Truman passed his Sabbath quietly today with his family. He took his daughter Margaret, to the girls' and boys' beach set aside for his visits here. It was the first swim since he arrived Friday with Mrs. Truman.

The Presidential family did not attend church. After luncheon at the commandant's house, where Mr. Truman is quartered, the whole family took naps.

After dinner, they saw a movie, "The Red River."

Jaycees to Sponsor Speaking Contest on Democracy Topic

A public-speaking contest among Pottstown Senior High school students, on the theme of "I Speak for Democracy," will be sponsored during the next two weeks by the Pottstown Junior Chamber of Commerce.

This was announced yesterday by Joseph Monjar, chairman of the Jaycee committee supervising the event.

Contest winners will be awarded prizes to be contributed by borough businessmen and will be eligible for State and National finals. On the national level there are four $500 scholarships to be awarded.

Borough students wishing to participate should submit their names this week to the principal's office, then prepare a five-minute speech on the "I Speak for Democracy" theme. The speech does not have to be memorized.

THE SPEECHES will be presented in public some day next week before a group of judges that will include Burgess William A. Griffith, who has proclaimed this week to be "I Speak for Democracy Week."

The nation-wide contests are sponsored by the U. S. Junior Chamber, with the endorsement of the U. S. Office of Education. Purpose of the contest is to have students make a serious study of democracy, with emphasis on its role in world leadership, Monjar asserted.

The borough winner will have his speech transcribed and sent to the State contest.

Judges for the National contest will include Tom C. Clark, U. S. attorney; Eric Johnson, president of the Motion Pictures Production association, and James Stewart, actor.

6 Firemen Overcome In 8-Hour Ship Blaze

NEW YORK, Nov. 14 (P)—Six firemen were overcome by smoke early today as they fought a stubborn blaze in the hold of a 9000-ton Panamanian freighter tied up at an East river pier.

The fire aboard the vessel, the S. S. Centauro, twice was believed brought under control by two fireboats and a half-dozen fire engines on the pier, but each time it flared up anew.

It finally was extinguished about eight hours after it started.

The fire started in an oil bilge amidships and spread to a forward hold, doing heavy damage to a cargo of foodstuffs, firemen said.

Tests made at the Mellon Institute indicate that cutting, snaving or snagging do not make the hair grow faster or thicker.

Detar Family Thrilled by Penn-Army Game Even Though Local Star Fails to See Action

Although he didn't see his son play, Dr. David D. Detar's trip to Philadelphia the past Saturday to see the Penn-Army game was not wasted.

The local physician and 11 members of his party, plus 78,194 other fans, saw the cadets stage a "4-yard drive in the last three minutes to clinch a dramatic game that Penn thought it had sewed up.

Dr. Detar's son, Dave, sat this one out because "he just hasn't had enough experience playing guard and it was a tough game," Dr. Detar commented.

The 185-pound guard, transferred from the backfield three weeks ago, played half of the Stanford and VPI games at guard.

Another reason for his failure to see action Saturday may have been the bad cold from which he was recuperating.

YOUNG DETAR spent Saturday night at the family's Beantonsville RD home and then caught a train yesterday morning for New York where he was to join the rest of the team who were slated to see a professional football game there.

With the doctor were Mrs. Detar and daughter, Emma Jean; Dr. and Mrs. Jack R. Wennersten, Charlotte and East streets, and Mrs. Maude Ockerman, Lincoln, Neb. Mrs. Wennersten's mother, and Harry G. Nevenesch, 630 North Franklin street.

Prove CAMEL MILDNESS for Yourself!

Prove for yourself what throat specialists reported when 30-day smoking test revealed
NO THROAT IRRITATION
due to smoking CAMELS!

MAKE YOUR OWN 30-DAY CAMEL MILDNESS TEST. Smoke Camels, and only Camels, for 30 days. Prove for yourself just how mild Camels are! Hundreds of men and women, from coast to coast, recently made a similar test. They smoked an average of one to two packs of Camels a day for 30 days. Their throats were carefully examined by noted throat specialists. And after a total of 2470 exacting examinations—these throat specialists reported not one single case of throat irritation due to smoking Camels!

But prove it yourself...in your "T-Zone" (T for Taste and T for Throat). Let YOUR OWN TASTE tell you about the rich, full flavor of Camel's choice tobaccos. Let YOUR OWN THROAT give the good news of Camel's cool, cool mildness.

Money-Back Guarantee!

Try Camels and test them as you smoke them. If at any time you are not convinced that Camels are the mildest cigarette you ever smoked, return the package with the unused Camels and we will refund its full purchase price, plus postage.
